

BD Intelligence Test Document

AF DCGS (Distributed Common Ground System) Overview

The Air Force Distributed Common Ground System (AF DCGS) is the primary intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance (ISR) processing, exploitation, and dissemination system for the United States Air Force.

Prime Contractors:

- General Dynamics IT (GDIT) - Primary systems integration
- Northrop Grumman - Sensor processing
- Raytheon - Data fusion capabilities

Contract Value: Approximately 500 million dollars annually

Key Locations:

- Langley AFB, Virginia
- Beale AFB, California
- Ramstein AB, Germany

Clearance Requirements: TS/SCI required for most positions

Current Opportunities:

GDIT is actively hiring for the following roles:

- Systems Engineers (10+ positions)
- Intelligence Analysts (5 positions)
- Software Developers (8 positions)

Contact: Christine Carpenter, Program Manager at GDIT